

Still on Dynamics GP? Your window to plan your next move is now.

Microsoft ends all GP support on December 31, 2029. New GP subscriptions stop in April 2026. The organizations moving now are choosing on their terms. The ones waiting will not have that option.

-  4-6 months Average implementation timeline. The sooner you start, the more control you have.
-  200+ companies implemented on Acumatica by our team since 2015. Across 27 states and 7 countries.
-  98% Our implementation success rate.

If you are migrating anyway, make sure it is worth it.

Business Central is not a GP upgrade. It is a full implementation of a completely different system. So is Acumatica. The difference is what you get on the other side.

| | Dynamics GP | Business Central | Acumatica |
|----------------------------|---------------------|-------------------------|------------------|
| Hosting | On-premise | Cloud | Cloud |
| Financial reporting | Strong | Requires add-ons | Native, built-in |
| User licensing | Per seat | Per seat | Unlimited users |
| Multi-entity | Manual, extra steps | Manual, extra steps | Automated |
| Support roadmap | Ends 2029 | Active | Active |
| Mobile access | Limited | Yes | Yes |

What Changes After You Move to Acumatica?

- No more logging in and out of companies for intercompany transactions
- Built-in financial reporting with real-time drill-down and consolidated views
- No add-ons required for reporting or dashboards
- Add unlimited users across teams without increasing licensing costs
- Automated intercompany entries—no manual workarounds
- Simpler data imports compared to GP's Integration Manager

"Is that it?" said a staff member to one of our clients, after completing a multi-entity transaction in Acumatica, which previously took 20-30 minutes in GP
